

Food-Fueled Submissions

Editing Guide

---

Overview

This document outlines the guidelines Food-Fueled editors must adhere to when reviewing submissions. Unless stated otherwise, these guidelines apply regardless of submission type, genre, or category. Any changes/revisions to this document must be reviewed by all members of the Food-Fueled editorial board.

Document Organization

All submissions to Food-Fueled must be sent as Microsoft Word Documents to submissions_ff@american.edu. If contributors send their papers in other formats, editors will request that they resubmit them as Word Documents prior to the editing process. Edits and comments will be added through the Microsoft Word “Comments” software; the only direct changes editors will make to submissions are correcting spelling, punctuation, and grammar errors. All other edits/suggestions will be added as comments which contributors must approve.
