

“Ocean CDR Business and Investment: What the Law and Policy Community Needs to Know”

Abstract: The role of the business and investment community is essential to Ocean CDR advancing and going to scale. Private sector efforts are actively moving forward with Ocean CDR. However, there are critical legal and policy issues that create uncertainty and constraints to the development and deployment of Ocean CDR. This panel will bring together a group of the leading business and investment Ocean CDR proponents to engage with the law and policy community to shape the shared agenda, identify priorities and form a roadmap for collaboration in support of responsible CDR.
