Course Description:

This course examines three interrelated processes that often occur in countries coming out of conflict:

1. Disarmament, Demobilization, and Reintegration (DDR)
2. Justice Sector Reform
3. Security Sector Reform

For each process we cover theoretical debates, review best practices, and examine several case studies in depth, including Peru, Mexico, Northern Ireland, Liberia, South Africa, Afghanistan and Iraq.

Required Texts:

1. Kimberly Theidon. 2012. Intimate Enemies: Violence and Reconciliation in Peru. Philadelphia: University of Pennsylvania Press.
2. Paul Kenny and Monica Serrano (Eds). 2011. Mexico's Security Failure: Collapse into Criminal Violence. New York: Routledge.
3. Blackboard Readings. These include academic journal articles, think tank analyses, and formal government reports.

Pre-Requisites:

This course is for masters level students. Students GGP and IPCR may use this class in partial fulfillment of their degree requirements. Other students should consult their program directors for assistance in using this course for a degree requirement.

Course Objectives

This course introduces students to the key processes to help states transition away from conflict and towards peace. We focus on three types of processes—DDR, Justice Reform, and Security Reform. For each process students will learn the basic approaches as well as key points of consensus and debate. We will also explore these issues in depth through case studies, group work, and written assignments.

Learning Outcomes.

- Students will be able to identify the main types of peace agreements
- Students will be able to identify the key elements of successful DDR programs
- Students will learn what the key obstacles to successful DDR programs are
- Students will learn what the different types of Truth Commissions are and the benefits and disadvantages of each
- Students will learn how police and military intersect in Security Sector Reform.
- Students will know best practices of successful Security Sector Reform
- Students will learn the importance of local context to post-conflict reform.

Assignments

Analytic Papers: Students will write 3 10 page papers for this class. Each paper will require outside research and analysis. The first paper will cover DDR, the second Justice, and the third Security. Students will receive a detail assignment guideline 2 weeks before a paper is due. Students will be graded on the quality of writing, the depth of research, and the clarity of analysis. Group Presentations: Students will be placed into 3 groups. Each group will give 2 substantive presentations to the class. Presentations will be about 15 minutes and require outside research. Your grade will be based on on the quality of information they present, the quality of the presentations itself, and the degree to which their presentation demonstrates coordination between group members. Final Exam: Students will also take a written final exam in which they address the wider themes of the class.

Paper 1:	20%
Paper 2:	20%
Paper 3:	20%
Group Presentation 1	10%
Group Presentation 2	10%
Final Exam	20%

Grading Scale
A = 95	B+ = 88	C+ = 78	D = 65	F = 55
A- = 92	B = 85	C = 75
	B- = 82	C- = 72

Classroom Policies:

- ❖ No Texting during Class. If you have to bring your cell phone with you, keep it in your bag/backpack, turned off or on mute, and out of sight.
- ❖ No Laptops: Laptops in class provides too many distractions (social media, email, surfing, bargain hunting, etc.). Even the most attentive students can get distracted by all of this. Studies also suggest that students retain more information when they take notes by hand than when they type them. As a result, I have a no laptop policy.
- ❖ Proper Notification: Students are entitled to miss exams and assignment due dates for the reasons listed below. In each case, students must provide proper documentation.

Religious holidays

Doctor's appointment

Car Wreck

Surgery

Death in the family

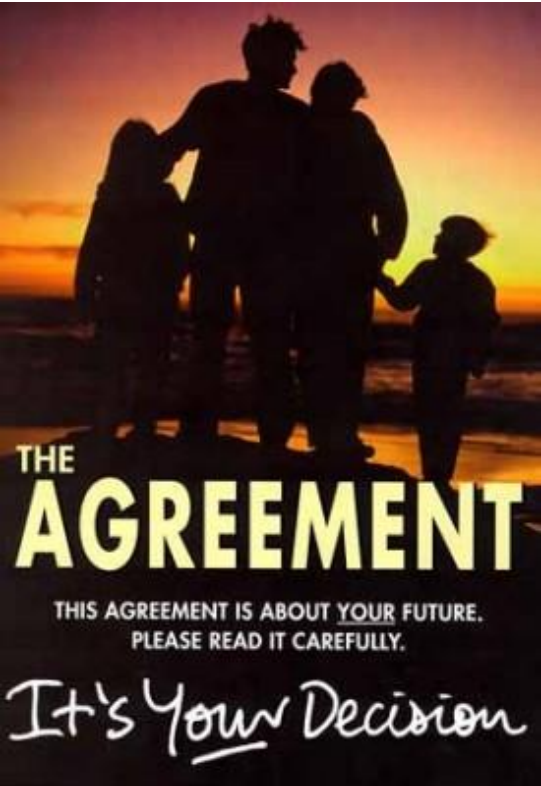

Students without documentation will be reduced one-third of a letter grade (e.g. from a B+ to a B) each day past the assignment due date.

- ❖ Open Dialogue: During the semester unexpected problems may affect your performance in this class. I am willing to work with you to overcome any such difficulties. I can only do so, however, if you let me know WHILE something is affecting you. Thus, it behooves you to keep me abreast of issues as they occur rather than coming to me at the end of the semester with an explanation for poor performance. At that point it is usually too late for me to do anything to help you.
- ❖ Academic Integrity: Standards of academic conduct are set forth in the University's Academic Integrity Code. By registering, you have acknowledged your awareness of the Academic Integrity Code, and you are obliged to become familiar with your rights and responsibilities as defined by the Code. Violations of the Academic Integrity Code will not be treated lightly, and disciplinary actions will be taken should such violations occur. Please see me if you have any questions about the academic violations described in the Code in general or as they relate to particular requirements for this course. I also encourage you to familiarize yourself with the AIC code found at: <http://www.american.edu/academics/integrity/code.cfm>. Please remember to contact me if you have any questions regarding potential violations.
